THE GRAVEL EARTH SERIES ARE BORN TO MAINTAIN THE ESSENCE OF GRAVEL

Klassmark has brought together six of the most important international gravel events to boost the circuit

The Gravel Earth Series want to promote gravel in a positive way around the world

The world gravel explosion is a reality. This cycling modality continues to add lovers and, with it, the interest of brands and federations grows. The gravel paradigm is changing. This is the raison d'être of the Gravel Earth Series, the new world circuit of this sport has born with the ambition of maintaining its essence, bringing together some of the most important and experienced events on Earth. The values of this sport, respect for the environment and love for the territory must prevail over any competition. The gravel community doesn't want to give up their roots.

This is the philosophy that led Klassmark, promoters of the circuit, to give shape to the Gravel Earth Series idea. It is time to bring together some of the most authentic events on the international scene. All of them must promote gravel in a positive way, inspiring the community throughout the territory. The result? Six countries and six events with different itineraries and formats, plus the Earth Final. The tracks of the Gravel Earth Series promote remote areas little visited by the general public to find genuine contact with the Earth. The landscape value and the natural environment in which the events take place must be the first premise.

The adhered events to the Gravel Earth Series are events with personality that differ from the rest. From the wild land of Maasai Mara in Kenya to the dark lava field in the highlands of Iceland. Migration and The Rift are two of the pillars of the circuit. It is also championed by The Traka, with the Costa Brava and the historic city of Girona in Spain as a claim. Octopus defies the participants with the highest peaks of the Alps in Switzerland. France is represented by the medieval castles and the great rivers of Nature is Bike, while the Nordic Gravel of Bergslagen proposes a trip to the massive inland of Sweden. The party ends with the Earth Final, the grand finale of the circuit with a venue to be determined, which will crown the best bikers of this first edition.

In addition, the Earth Final adds an extra score, being the event that distributes the most loot; where everything will be decided.
